Friday 18th September

Dear Families,

Our second full week! Again, it has been an absolute pleasure welcoming the children in to school. They have been a delight. Remember to check our Twitter Feeds to see exactly what has been going on at Royston St John Baptist. All of the teachers have been keen to share their work and already, we have seen some high-quality input and outputs from everyone here.

Our Risk Assessments are of course available on the school website and I would again like to thank families for following our latest rules and routines so carefully. Please ensure social distancing is adhered to at all times and that you follow the markers on the floor for pick up and drops offs.

Yesterday the wonderful Miss Openshaw and Miss Best facilitated an online meeting for our new starter children. Thank you to all the parents who managed to join them. We really believe our school is an extraordinary place to be and we hope that our parents of new starters feel they have had all their questions answered, even though we can't welcome you into the building at this current time. If you have any further questions please let us know.

Next week, we are welcoming Barnsley Music Hub Peripatetic Teachers in to school as per guidance and we shall strive to develop these exciting opportunities even further across school.

We will also be starting online French lessons via a live video link next week with our Trust French teacher Miss Boon. I know the children across KS2 are particularly excited for this to take place.

It has also been great to see children attending school on PE days many in their house colour kit – thank you for your support. On PE days children must ensure that school PE kit is worn - PE day is in no way a dress down day in school. Black sports trousers, shorts, leggings or PE skirts can be worn with a team colour or white top. Zip up hoodies must also be black.

Polite Notice – Please can you collect any bikes or scooters from the shelter as you pass on your way to pick up your child. This avoids any parents and children crossing in our one-way system.

Have a wonderful weekend and we will be ready to greet you on the playground on Monday morning.
