Friday 5th May 2023

Dear Mums, Dads, and Carers,

While it may have only been a four day week, this week has been so busy and has been jam packed with activity. Year 6 have been making their final preparations for their end of KS2 SATs assessments beginning on Tuesday next week. As part of these preparations, the year 6 children have all been invited to attend a breakfast next week, so that we can ensure the children are emotionally prepared to take on the challenge. SATs are a fantastic opportunity for our fabulous children to showcase all the amazing learning that they have taken part in over the last seven years of their educational journey, and as a collective, we would like to take this opportunity to wish them all the best. I really do hope that they achieve the results, which I know they are capable of, and do the best that they possible can for themselves. They really do deserve to do well.

The King's coronation celebration day has been a raging success. It has been wonderful to see so many of our children come dressed in the colours of the Union Jack, or in smart clothing to celebrate this wonderous occasion. The celebration lunch was magnificent, and we would like to thank our brilliant kitchen staff for preparing such an amazing feast. Photographs from today have been posted on Twitter. In classrooms, the children have had a day of learning about the Royal Family, and in particular the new King Charles. The work they have produced will be displayed around school for all to see.

The diary dates seem to be building, with lots of activities and class trips being booked in before the end of this academic year. A list of these can be found below:

Polite Reminders

Head Lice - I should be grateful if all parents would check their own child's head as soon as possible. Head lice like all types of hair! Should you find any head lice please ensure that your child's head is clear before he/she returns to school. From my own experience it is necessary to recheck every second day thereafter, until you are confident that no new eggs have hatched. They take some catching and it is a painstaking job, but crucial if we are to get rid of them! It is also advisable to check the whole of your family including adults as head lice are easily transferable.

Yours sincerely
L. Spencer
